STEP 3A OF 8

Determine your brow shape. Using this technique is fool-proof and helps you find the perfect shaped brows:

Step A: Align a straight edge on the side of the nose up to the forehead- this tells you where your brows should start.

STEP 3B OF 8

Step B: The arch of the brow is determined by angling the straight edge from the lower center of the lip to the edge of the pupil- this tells you where the brow should peak.

STEP 3C OF 8

Step C: The end of the brow is found by placing the straight edge from the lower center lip to the outside of the eye.

STEP 4 OF 8

To balance the brow shape, I start with an eyebrow pencil close to the skin tone and gingerly fill in the gaps without getting too dark and brazen. The pencil is placed at the root of the hairs and pulled through the hair tips to simulate brow hairs.

STEP 5 OF 8

Next, add depth to the brows by adding a brow pencil that is a bit darker. Apply the pencil in hair-like strikes at the base of the hair root. Extend the end of your brow a bit further to add drama and achieve a more modern look. Clean up any mistakes with a concealer brush. This will give you a nice, clean edge without having to apply more makeup or use makeup remover.

STEP 6 OF 8

Seal the brow shape with a clear brow gel by combing the hairs from the base up and out towards the temples.

- Brow Set

STEP 7 OF 8

Enhance the brows by applying a subtle highlight under the arch of the brows. Using a cream eye shadow keeps the pearl of the highlight at a low level and looks modern. I use a small stiff brush to get the perfect highlight placement.

STEP 8 OF 8

Continue with the cream eye shadow on cheekbones and on the cupid's bow of the lip for consistency with highlights on the face. It really completes the look. When wearing a strong brow, I like to keep the rest of the makeup softer and more on the natural side.
